

U.S. Attorneys

At Woodard, Emhardt, Moriarty, McNett & Henry LLP, we frequently perform our work on referral from business and general practice lawyers, providing comprehensive legal representation exclusively in the field of intellectual property law. In this capacity, our goal is to act as a supplement to a client's primary lawyer, creating a mutually beneficial relationship for all parties. We will refer all legal matters that do not pertain to intellectual property back to the referring attorney for additional business assistance.

Because intellectual property law is our sole offering, we are able to offer your clients highly focused premium-quality service. We provide rapid responses to urgent intellectual property issues that may arise in the business arena. Our reputation for excellence, knowledge and integrity allows any referring attorneys to partner with us in representing their clients in total confidence.
