

Trade Secrets

At Woodard Emhardt, we can help you put a program in place to determine whether you should seek protection of your ideas via patent protection or through trade secret protection. Once the decision is made and the trade secrets are identified, we can help you implement a protection program to ensure your company's secrets remain just that "secret." For example, we can help you develop employment agreements to protect your trade secrets as well as implement document control procedures. We can help you reevaluate whether certain trade secrets still have value to your business. We are also knowledgeable on how to enforce your trade secret rights.